

Corcoran Elects Three New Board Members, Re-Elects Vice-Chair & Treasurer

Vanessa Haight | CNO Staff

On the beautiful spring evening of May 10th, over 50 residents gathered at Corcoran Community Garden to enjoy live music by Parks and Wreck drummer Joe Forest and guitarist Oscar Cozza (with a special appearance by Oscar del Sebastien), to enjoy grilled burgers and share homemade dishes, to mingle with neighbors, and to elect members for the CNO Board.

The meeting was led by Board Chair Flannery Clark, who was elected to the board at last year's meeting. Flannery serves as Co-Chair of the Land Use & Housing Committee in addition to leading the CNO Board of Directors.

Lisa Barajas was re-elected to another term as board Vice-Chair. Lisa has previously served as CNO Chair for two two-year terms, and earned the CNO's Volunteer of the Year award in 2015. She continues to be an instrumental leader in the development at 2225 East Lake and advocating for the Humanize Hi-Lake campaign.

April Riordan was re-elected to another term as board Treasurer. April has served as Treasurer since 2015, ensuring the Board is using resources wisely and meeting its fiduciary responsibilities. In addition to volunteering with CNO, April works at Big Brothers Big Sisters of the Greater Twin Cities. Look for April and her family (including a new puppy!) on walks around the neighborhood.

The CNO Board is excited to welcome three new board members!

Lori Kinzel-Auer was elected as an At Large board member. Lori has lived in the Corcoran neighborhood for just over four years and works as a graphic designer, artist, and front end developer. Corcoran News is fortunate to have Lori as the volunteer designer, as she spends countless hours each month on creating an engaging and professional publication. Lori looks forward to getting to know more about our neighborhood and becoming more involved in CNO activities.

Siyad Warsame was elected as an At Large board member. Warsame leads the African Reconciliation and Development Organization as the Founder and Executive Director. As a resident of the newly built Blue Line Flats, Warsame has quickly gotten to know his neighbors by bringing residents together to address security issues. His main interests in joining the CNO Board are to encourage community dialogue among our diverse neighbors, promote small business development, and address public safety issues in the neighborhood.

Mandie Kender was elected as an At Large board member. Mandie lives with her husband and two children and enjoys getting to know neighbors by hosting outdoor movie nights in the summer. She also has been a block leader for three years and has been involved with CNO since she moved to the neighborhood five years ago. Mandie joined the CNO board because she strongly believes that healthy, thriving neighborhoods can contribute to healing our city, state, country, and world. She is proud to live in Corcoran and excited to be part of CNO's effort to unite neighbors and foster a sense of belonging.

Corcoran Elige a Tres Nuevos Miembros de la Mesa Directiva, y Reelige Vicepresidente y Tesorero

Vanessa Haight | Equipo de CNO

En la bella noche de primavera del 10 de mayo, más de 50 residentes se reunieron en el Jardín Comunitario de Corcoran para disfrutar de música en vivo por el baterista de Parks and Wreck, Joe Forese y el guitarrista Oscar Cozza (con una aparición especial de Oscar del Sebastien), para disfrutar de hamburguesas a la parrilla y compartir comida casera, para platicar con los vecinos, y para elegir miembros para la mesa directiva de CNO.

La reunión fue encabezada por la presidenta de la Mesa Directiva Flannery Clark, quien fue elegida para la mesa en la reunión del año pasado. Flannery sirve como vicepresidenta de Comité de Uso de Tierra y Vivienda en adición a su cargo en la Mesa Directiva de CNO.

Lisa Barajas fue reelegida un término más como vicepresidenta de la mesa directiva. Lisa ha servido previamente de presidenta del CNO por dos términos de dos años, y ganó el Premio a la Voluntaria del Año del CNO en 2015. Ella continúa siendo una líder instrumental en el desarrollo de la 2225 East Lake y abogando por la campaña de Humaniza Hi-Lake.

April Riordan fue reelegida a otro término como tesorera de la mesa directiva. April ha servido de tesorera desde el 2015, asegurándose que la mesa directiva esté usando los recursos sabiamente y sus responsabilidades fiduciarias. A parte de ser voluntaria con CNO, April trabaja en Big Brothers Big Sisters de las Ciudades Gemelas. Busca a April y a su familia (incluyendo un nuevo perrito) en sus caminatas por el vecindario.

La mesa directiva de CNO se entusiasma en dar la bienvenida a tres nuevos miembros.

Lori Kinzel-Auer fue elegida como miembro independiente. Lori ha vivido en el vecindario Corcoran por más de cuatro años y trabaja como diseñadora gráfica, artista, y desarrolladora. El Periódico Corcoran es afortunado al tener a Lori como diseñadora voluntaria, ya que ella invierte incontables horas cada mes en la creación de una publicación entretenida y profesional. Lori quiere aprender más acerca de nuestro vecindario y desea involucrarse más en las actividades del CNO.

Soya Warsame fue elegida miembro independiente. Warsame lidera la Organización de Reconciliación y Desarrollo Africanos como Fundador y Director Ejecutivo. Como residente de la nueva construcción Blue Line Flats, Warsame ha conocido rápidamente a sus vecinos al unir a los residentes para abordar temas de seguridad. Su interés mayor al unirse a la mesa directiva de CNO es alentar el diálogo comunitario entre nuestros vecindarios diversos, promover pequeños negocios, y hablar de asuntos de seguridad pública en el vecindario.

Mandie Kender fue elegida miembro independiente. Mandie vive con su esposo y sus dos hijos y disfruta conocer vecinos al sostener noches de películas al aire libre en el verano. También ha sido una líder de cuadra por tres años y ha estado involucrada con el CNO desde que se mudó al vecindario hace cinco años. Mandie se unió a la mesa del CNO porque ella cree fuertemente que los vecindarios saludables y prósperos pueden contribuir a sanar nuestra ciudad, estado, país y el mundo. Ella está orgullosa de vivir en Corcoran y emocionada de ser parte de los esfuerzos de CNO de unir vecindarios y fomentar un sentido de pertenencia.

Makin’ It Work: Cycles for Change

Saturday, June 10th, 9:00 a.m. – 3:00 p.m.

Angel Arcos | Corcoran Youth Volunteer

Stepping off the train in Malta, MT, Jason Partridge and his buddy Reid, two students from Macalester College in Minneapolis, Minnesota, begin their journey westward to the Pacific Coast. They grab their road bikes that they fixed in the basement workshop of their dorm and ride through what looks like an old cowboy town with a dense pine forest at the end of Main Street.

On the way to Glacier National Park, one of Jason’s wheels breaks. The two buddies wander into a junkyard and find a replacement wheel. But it’s the wrong size. With tents and camping gear and a wrong-sized wheel, they’re “makin’ it work,” as Jason puts it.

After four days of rain, they pull into a campground. A man in a pickup truck offers to take them to his home. There they enjoy “creature comforts” such as a warm shower, a big couch, a big TV and home-cooked meals. The man even washes their clothes for them. During their trek westward, the two buddies meet many welcoming people in small towns along the highway.

Up in British Columbia, the two buddies ride a ferry the size of a cruise ship to Vancouver Island. For the last leg of their journey they ride south to San Francisco. Street cars and double-decker buses crowd the busy streets. Skyscrapers fill the skyline. Sailboats drift under the rust-colored, mile-long Golden Gate Bridge. Finally Jason and Reid fly back to their Minnesota home.

More than ten years later, Jason and Reid are still “makin’ it work” and exploring this “big ol’ world” on two wheels with friends and family. As the executive director of Cycles for Change in Minneapolis and St. Paul, Jason helps people in low-income, multi-racial communities to obtain free bikes and learn bike repair skills. Reid makes banjos, teaches banjo, and operates a mobile bike shop in Portland, Oregon. Jason wishes there were a Cycles for Change in every neighborhood so that more people could benefit from biking in their communities.

Summer is Near, Join Us at the Midtown Farmers Market!

Miguel Goebel | Midtown Farmers Market Manager

The month of June at the Midtown Farmers Market is an exciting time as we enter summer and stalls begin to fill with produce. Strawberries will be arriving, the weather will be heating up, and there will be lots of activity at the market. Along with the ever growing selection of produce there will also be plenty of great programming at the market this month as well. We’ll be celebrating Bees and Pollinators on June 10th and the African American community on June 24th. The 24th will also include the second installment of our Summer Poetry Series at the market. There will also be a 2nd Saturday Arts for All activity on the 10th, along with Market Science activities and gardening advice from Hennepin County Master Gardeners each week.

Some of the great items you can expect to find at the market in the month of June include: strawberries, spinach, kale, lettuces, green onions, radishes, peas, green beans, broccoli, kohlrabi, sprouts, rhubarb, bedding plants, free range chicken, grass fed beef, pasture raised pork and lamb, eggs, cheese, butter, honey, maple syrup, jellies and jams, baked goods, omelets, kabobs, tamales, samosas, Himalayan momos, coffee, lassis, bubble tea, and a variety of local arts and crafts.

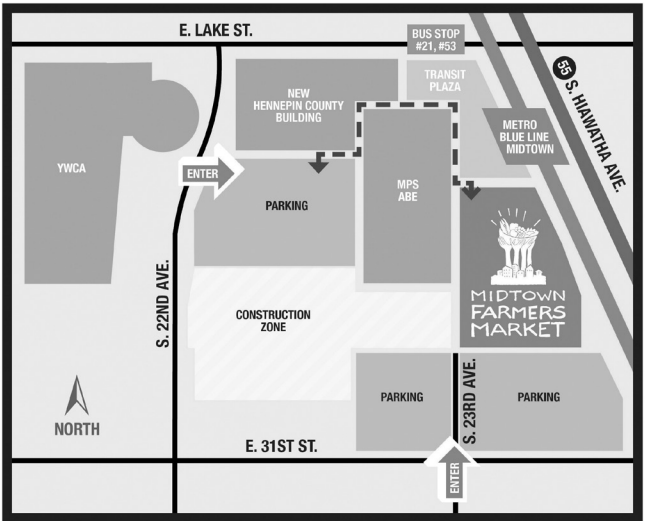

The Midtown Farmers Market is located at the corner of East Lake Street and Hiawatha Ave, directly adjacent to the Midtown/Lake St. LRT stop at 2225 E. Lake Street and offers fresh, local foods every Saturday 8:00am-1:00pm from May-June and Tuesday from 3:00pm-7:00pm June-October.

El verano está cerca, únete a nosotros en el Midtown Farmers Market!

Miguel Goebel | Midtown Farmers Market

El mes de junio en el Midtown Farmers Market es un momento emocionante cuando entramos en el verano y los puestos empiezan a llenarse de productos. Las fresas llegarán, el tiempo se calentará y habrá mucha actividad en el mercado. Junto con la creciente selección de productos también habrá un montón de gran programación en el mercado este mes también. Celebraremos las abejas y los polinizadores el 10 de junio y la comunidad afroamericana el 24 de junio. El día 24 también incluirá la segunda entrega de nuestra Serie de poesía de verano en el mercado. También habrá un 2do arte de los artes del sábado para todos en el 10mo, junto con las actividades de la ciencia de mercado y el consejo que cultivan un huerto de jardines maestros del condado de Hennepin cada semana.

Algunas de las grandes cosas que puede esperar encontrar en el mercado en el mes de junio incluyen: fresas, espina-cas, col rizada, lechugas, cebollas verdes, rábanos, guisantes, judías verdes, brócoli, colinabo, brotes, ruibarbo, plantas de cama, libre Huevos, queso, mantequilla, miel, jarabe de arce, jaleas y mermeladas, productos horneados, tortillas, kabobs, tamales, samosas, momos del Himalaya, café, lassis, té de burbujas y Una variedad de artes y artesanías locales.

El Midtown Farmers Market está ubicado en la esquina de East Lake Street y Hiawatha Ave, directamente adyacente a la parada Midtown / Lake St. LRT en 2225 E. Lake Street y ofrece comida local fresca todos los sábados de 8:00 am a 1:00 pm de Mayo-junio y martes de 3:00 pm-7:00 pm junio-octubre.

ous owner) and I had icky conflicts over some of the details. This entire year in my reflections, I've been sad about this. I studied it and sat with those feelings. I finally decided to reach out. She responded with grace and came over to see the new space. We talked about how with self-reflection we can revisit conflicts - even if a year or more has passed, we CAN go back and heal. It takes courage to revisit the hard realities of our past but how lovely it can be to make peace. Elen brought me yellow daisies and wished me abundance. Supported with our yoga practice/philosophy, we could step out on that limb, letting go of ego in order to forgive. And now Imbue feels even more sweet. Thank you, Elen. We would LOVE to invite you to our first year anniversary party June 25th. Free mini-classes, discounts, snacks and live music. Hope to see you then!

Corcoran GROWS: A Year of Water

Sandy Spieler | Cocoran Grows & Corcoran Neighbor

The GROWing Season Begins!

Marissa Tappy | Cocoran GROWS & Corcoran Neighbor

Sometimes it sneaks up on you. Sometimes you wait for it to arrive every single day. Whether you're a window waiter or last-minute catch-up'er—spring has sprung and it's not to late to get involved in GROWS!

We ushered in May with a leisurely weed walk from the park down to the Corcoran Community Garden, chatting with neighbors along the way. To close out the month our resident herbalist and tincture connoisseur organized a pollinator talk with the Bee Squad from the U of M. We have a water team working to highlight the importance of our precious watersheds on June 3rd at the Midtown Farmers Market. And last but not least, Soup's On is back to bring neighbors together for a good meal and ongoing education on pollinators, building cob ovens, aquaponics and more!

Keep up on our events by following Corcoran GROWS on Facebook and opening those darn email newsletters!

Upcoming events:

- Soup's On – Wednesday, June 14th from 6:30-8:30pm @ 3519 23rd Ave.
- Planning Potluck – Monday, June 19th from 6-8:30pm @ 3540 Longfellow Ave.

Backyard Movie Nites Popping Up

Lexy Ken | Corcoran Neighbor

My wife Mandie and I have been doing outdoor movie nights, about 1 per month for the past 2 years. We had an old projector that we had used a couple of times for different events and started doing it more regularly as they got more attention. We upgraded the projector and audio last year. We do mostly Disney/Pixar/family movies and it's been a great way to get to know some of our neighbors.

We have been married almost 9 years and have 2 kids. We both have lived in the metro area about 12-13 years, and moved to Corcoran 4 1/2 years ago. We've attended several neighborhood organization events and meetings since then. Mandie is the newest at-large board member on CNO. We are at 2634 E. 35th Street, in the group of little town homes on the NW corner of Hiawatha and 35th Street.

Look for Movie Nite announcements on Nextdoor and we'll see you under the stars. Costumes encouraged!

Jessica Johansen-Moe | Corcoran Neighbor

Jordan and I moved to the Corcoran neighborhood in September of 2015. We both came from tightknit communities. Enjoying time with neighbors and knowing we are all there for each other was a value instilled in both of us at an early age. We have done quite a bit of moving around and when we finally settled in Corcoran, it was important to have that sense of community.

It was pretty common for our group of friends to gather for one reason or another once a week. Now that we had a nice big yard, Monday movie night seemed like a perfect reason to meet up. We started with a sheet hung on our shed and our friends (and neighbors) Ray and Jessie would bring over their projector. We acquired a projecting screen that was gathering dust in my mother's basement and added a few tiki torches and a fire pit. When it caught on and we were meeting nearly every Monday in the summer, we all chipped in and bought a big popcorn machine. To organize the featured movie, we create an event of Facebook and vote each week. I recently started posting the final decision to Nextdoor in hopes to meet some new neighbors. What we really wanted to accomplish with our backyard movie night was a low key, welcoming, and safe environment that our friends and neighbors could enjoy.

Sanford Survey

Zoe Riordan | Corcoran Youth Volunteer

As a student at Sanford Middle School, I was curious to know what my peers were looking forward to about high school. In my first hour Art class an argument broke out between a devoted Roosevelt Teddy, "Roosevelt has a library, and a better math program," and a feisty South Tiger, "Well, South has better sports teams, and Roosevelt's teams SUCK!" I decided to frame the discussion in a more constructive way. I began asking both 7th and 8th graders, "What is going to be the most important class/course for you in high school?" They could choose up to 3 courses. Though the data is fairly spread out, I was a bit surprised by the results, with Math in the lead, and English a close second. A handful of students said they would be trying to get a scholarship out of sports.

This is a graph of the data I collected:

Hot Wheels

Will Wlizio | Corcoran Neighbor

With the long sun finally shining on Minneapolis, summer is a great time to enjoy the city by bicycle. Here are a few easy tips to keep you cool and healthy while biking in the dog days of summer.

Made in the shades - Protect your eyes with a good pair of sunglasses. While you can find super sporty spectacles at your local bike shop, any pair of dark-lensed glasses will do the trick. Some helmets have built-in visors, though you shouldn't rely on them for full protection. Your future self will be especially thankful if you can spring for a pair that shields against ultraviolet light.

Beware the breeze - Ah! What's better than a refreshing, gentle gust of wind to dry your sweat during a long bike ride in the summer, right? Not so fast. Be sure to pay extra attention to your body when biking on a hot, windy day. Sweat is an important way your body regulates your temperature. If the wind dries you off too fast, you miss out on the cooling effects of sweat evaporating naturally.

Screen time - As always, it's best to heed the words of your mother: wear sunscreen, reapply it regularly, and stop complaining. Hands, ears, and calves are especially vulnerable to a wicked sunburn when pedaling around town. There are just a handful of things less cool than being responsible, but three of them are peeling skin, farmers' tans, and melanoma.

Lots of drops to drink - Most importantly, keep your water bottles full and your thirst quenched. If you feel thirsty, it likely means that you're already dehydrated. Count on guzzling 12 to 36 ounces of water for every hour you're on your bike (depending on how hard you ride, how warm the weather is, and how your body reacts to heat). Sports drinks can help replenish salt and other important minerals lost through sweating.

Keeping those tips in mind, you're ready to beat the heat and take to the streets. Happy trails!

Save the Food

Laura Horner | Recycling Program Aide II | City of Minneapolis – Division of Solid Waste & Recycling

In the United States, 40% of all food goes to waste, translating to $162 billion lost as well as wasted water, energy, fertilizers, and cropland. Additionally, the average family of four throws out over 1,000 pounds of food a year which is equal to $1,500 a year. Minneapolis Solid Waste & Recycling suggests a few tips to reduce wasted food:

Understand food labels like “Best If Used”

The dates on food labels are generally not expiration dates*, but merely suggestions as to when the product is at its freshest. In fact, the grocery industry recently adopted voluntary standards to reduce confusion about product date labels.

“Use by”— products with this label should be consumed by the date listed on the package.

“Best if used by” describes product quality. After that date, the product may not be at peak flavor, but is generally safe to consume.

Use your sense of smell, sight and best judgement to determine when food has gone bad, and don’t rely only on the food label. Don’t use foods that have developed an off odor, flavor or appearance.

*The only federally regulated use by date is on baby formula to ensure the nutrient levels listed are accurate.

Learn how to store your food to keep it fresh:

Store food in the appropriate areas of the fridge.

Try reviving wilted lettuce and veggies like carrots and broccoli by placing them in an ice bath for 5-10 minutes before throwing them out.

Date leftovers so you know when they’re made.

Keep an “Eat me first” box in your fridge to put older or more perishable items.

Three Ways You Can Improve Energy Efficiency in Your Home.

Brettina Davis | Corcoran Staff

Last month I wrote an article about the energy efficiency work we are doing here in Corcoran. We are learning more about ways to save energy and for this month’s article I thought I would share some help tips with the neighborhood!

• Install LED Lights

You use anywhere from 25%-80% less energy with LED lights. LED light bulbs come in different shapes and sizes and you can buy them almost anywhere. They emit very little heat compared to the incandescent light bulb. This, in itself is a money saver. They also make great task lights because their light is emitted in a specific direction and makes white light.

• Unplug Your TV and Other Appliances

We all know to turn off the lights when we leave a room, but do you unplug your appliances? Your TV is still using energy even when it is unplugged. Try unplugging appliances when you are not using them and watch your energy bill drop dramatically.

• Take shorter Showers

This one is easier said than done. Longer showers cost you more money. Depending on where you live you could save anywhere from $10 to $100 dollars a year!

Let’s reduce the energy we use as a neighborhood!

The Incomplete Skeptic: I Didn’t Mean to Hurt Someone

Timothy Cameron | Corcoran Neighbor

I think about the Alcoholic that was in my life twice a year. On her birthday and when she passed away. She drank herself to death in December and has a birthday coming up soon. I had exited the relationship we had before she passed, as I felt directed to do so by my Higher Power.

But before I ended the relationship, my Spiritual Advisor said she was ‘holding onto the bottle, and it was pulling her down into the abyss to drown,’ and further said, “...and YOU are holding onto her...” ‘to save her,’ but said that I too would drown if I did not “let go” of her.’ “She’ll pull you down with her!”

So, I decided to ‘Let Go and let God.’ I felt guilty for quitting on her as if I was partially to blame for her death. But I learned a life-saving principle that is worth repeating, called, “The Three C’s.” I didn’t Cause it, I can’t Control it, and I can’t Cure it.

If the person gets sober because of us, they’ll never take accountability of their lives. A person cannot realize the meaning of denial of alcoholism without experiencing Powerlessness. Ironically, if we throw pillows under the alcoholic to keep them from falling too hard, then WE KILL THEM. They have to hit concrete, unfortunately.

Powerlessness leads one to believe beyond the illusions that didn’t work.

Powerlessness clears denial. In Zen Buddhism, a person experiences Satori (sudden enlightenment) or wake-up when experiencing a sharp smack on the head with a long staff of the Master. There are other ways to wake up, too, but when one is drinking or drugging themselves into oblivion, something more pressing is required for The Wakeup Call. Sometimes, maybe the Police catch the person drinking and driving, and they realize their life is out of control, and the arrest wakes them up.

We have to work our program. If a plane is going down, first take your oxygen mask and then pray for the next right thing to occur. If the prayer is answered, then take action. There is One who has ALL power...so ‘keep your prayers on.’ I would rather leave the house with no clothes on than without my prayers on.

“This Too Shall Pass.” Take care of ‘you’ so you’ll be strong enough to provide service work from a place of wellness, rather than from real grief or shock.

Euphoric Recall happens when we feel the love for the addict/alcoholic, but guess what? Love itself doesn’t go far enough. The number one killer of children, for example, that dies in drunk driving tragedies die at the hands of the one that loves them most (the parent drunk driver). Love doesn’t save the children; loving ACTION does.

Anytime anyone, anywhere, reaches out for help, we need to help them. Yes, there is a time for Intervention, but throwing one’s life away but chasing an addiction isn’t helping anyone. Be the best person you can be, and leave the outcome up to your higher power.

Succesful First COPA Artcrawl

Sree Nair | COPA Memeber

The first annual COPA Art Crawl was held in South Minneapolis on Saturday, May 6 2017, and we are pleased to share that it was a huge success!! COPA (short for “Corcoran-Powderhorn Artists”) is an open association of local artists whose goal is to promote neighborhood talent through yearly Art Crawls. As the first of many more to come, the 2017 COPA Art Crawl drew in hundreds of visitors, while artists in Corcoran and Powderhorn shared their studios, their works, and their stories in a community-wide conversation with neighbors. The COPA Art Crawl is a community driven project managed by community participants. It showcases how lucky we are to have so much talent in South Minneapolis. In celebrating our own home-grown cultural resources, COPA also draws our neighborhoods closer together.

COPA is open to all area artists, designers, performers etc.... If you are interested in learning more about COPA, please visit <http://copa-artcrawl.com>

Opening of the Hennepin County South Minneapolis Human Service Center

Adam Tomczik | Co-Chair of the Land Use and Housing Committee

The new Hennepin County South Minneapolis Human Service Center opened on May 15, 2017 at 2215 East Lake Street. The completion culminated nineteen months of construction and years of planning. The South Minneapolis Human Service Center is the sixth human service center in the County’s effort to decentralize services beyond downtown Minneapolis. Other county human service center locations include Brooklyn Center, Bloomington, Hopkins, North Minneapolis and downtown

Minneapolis. A full list of services offered at the human service centers can be found at this link: www.hennepin.us/residents/human-services/resource-directory

The building features green roofs which are covered with growing plants to help absorb rainwater and reduce urban air temperatures. Bike racks are easily accessible to the public in the front of the building. The County anticipates that as many as 1,000 people, including clients and staff, will use the human service center each day.

The building includes 8,000 square feet of retail space on the street level. The Corcoran Neighborhood Organization is working with Hennepin County to fill the retail spaces with cafes, restaurants, and retailers that meet the needs of neighborhood residents and County employees. The retail space will be occupied later this year.

The County will hold a grand opening for the new human service center on Tuesday, June 13, 2017 from 6:00 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. with tours for the public.

CNO Board Of Directors Meeting

Thursday, April 13th, 2017, 7 – 9 pm at CNO, 3451 Cedar Ave. S.

Attending: Flannery Clark, Adam Tomczik, Lisa-Beth Barajas, Ellie Watkins, Evan Lee-Ferrand, Vanessa Haight

Absent: April Rlordan, Mike Novak, Russ Grigsby, Matt Kazinka, Marvin Applewhite, Alberta Smith

Guests: Lori (Newspaper Committee)

- A. Call to Order and Introductions
- B. Introduction of Vanessa Haight, Interim Executive Director and Community Development Manager
- C. Minneapolis 2040 Plan and Corcoran Small Area Planning (Lisa & Adam)
- Board has completed review of City Guidance on small area plan (SAP) and now needs to identify categories that will be addressed in the CNO SAP and define clear needs. Midtown Revival Plan was developed and adopted in 2002 but many things have changed since then. Need to decide if CNO wants to broaden focus to match city plan or determine only to focus on local areas of interest.
- Adam suggested that we look at broadening areas addressed by city.
- Evan suggested that we approach our focus on a grass roots approach.
- CNO needs to have a credible, thoughtful approach.
- Need to do:
1. Select steering committee that is recruited with at least a 2 year committed active involvement.
 2. Separate meeting time on 4th Thursday
 3. Look at current committee members as some potential new members. Current chairs encourage their members to consider or enlist new members. Advertise in various ways new opportunities for new people.
 4. Board to develop scope and definition of project.
 5. Board to develop steering committee member job description and “as we know it now” timetable.
- The Board selected and grouped the topic areas, matching existing committees and neighborhood groups to the topic area where possible.
- Land Use & Urban Design: Land Use / Housing Committee (LUH)

- Housing: LUH / Renters
 - Transportation: LUH
 - Environmental Systems & Sustainability: Corcoran GROWS
 - Public Health: MFM, YWCA, Market, Renters
 - Parks and Open Space: Also MFM
 - Heritage Preservation - streetcar nodes: Economic Development
 - Arts & Culture: COPA / Newspaper / Economic Development
 - Economic Development: Economic Development
- Timeline: launch SAP process by Summer 2018, no deadline to get it done.

- Next steps:
1. Board asks committee chairs (committees noted next to categories) to start the conversation about SAP and these categories.
 2. Committees should start defining clear needs (“why address?”) in these categories.
 3. Committee chairs will start identifying representatives from committees to serve on SAP steering committee. Consider putting info on SAP and the steering committee in the newspaper in the next few months to recruit steering committee members.
 4. Board will create steering committee composed of board, committee, and community members that are committed to SAP for the next 1-2 years. Board to define clear expectations and define a scope for the steering committee to work within.
 5. SAP will be a reoccurring board agenda item for the next several months.

- D. All Together Now (Flannery)
- Flannery summarized the All Together Now Program in which City selects neighborhoods to do inspections for housing code violations, with a focus on vacant properties and properties with repeated nuisance violations. The City will send an informational letter to all property owners, but not to tenants. The May newspaper includes an article written by the City regarding All Together Now and the June issue will include an article by Flannery, with a possible insert of the City’s flyer. Regulatory Services representatives will be at Board Picnic.
- MOTION: CNO to write letter to Cano, Bender, Goodman expressing concern regarding All Together Now. Motion made

- by Matt, second Evan Lee. Motion passes. Flannery will write letter with support from Evan.
- E. Committee motions and updates (Adam)
- Min Hi Line group: The Min Hi Line Coalition is a volunteer group of neighborhoods, organizations and individuals dedicated to envisioning and developing a distinct green space along the Minnehaha Hiawatha corridor. The Min Hi Line Coalition is advocating for a visioning effort along the Blue Line LRT from the Midtown Greenway to Minnehaha Parkway, between Minnehaha and Hiawatha Avenues. This freight rail corridor runs alongside several Minneapolis neighborhoods and offers a tremendous opportunity for a unique urban green space. The visioning will explore options for a distinct urban green space, utilizing previous research, small area plans, and community engagement. This project will further this work by investigating new opportunities for parks, public art, trails, streets, historical markers and storm water management.
- Representatives from the Min Hi Line group attended the March Land Use & Housing Committee to share information about the vision and request support. Land Use & Housing passed a resolution to send a letter of support to the Min Hi Line group.
- Question: What existing planning documents relate to this area and how are they being incorporated?
- Matt Motion, Evan seconded to send a letter of support to the Midtown Greenway Coalition in support of the Min Hi Line. Motion passes.
- MOTION: to move Land Use & Housing Committee Meeting time to 6:30 PM. Motion passes.
- F. Update on Plans for Board Training Retreat (Flannery)
- Will likely need to look at other dates, Flannery will remind people to vote.
- G. Announcements (All) and Adjourn
- Picnic & Board Elections: May 10th, 5:30 pm with elections at 6:30 at Community Garden, rain backup at Corcoran Park
 - Next Meeting Board Meeting (Thursday, May 11 at 7:00pm) cancelled due to picnic & board elections previous day
 - Idea proposed for clean-up day in preparation of All Together Now. Lisa will look into options.
- Adam moved to adjourn. Lisa seconded.

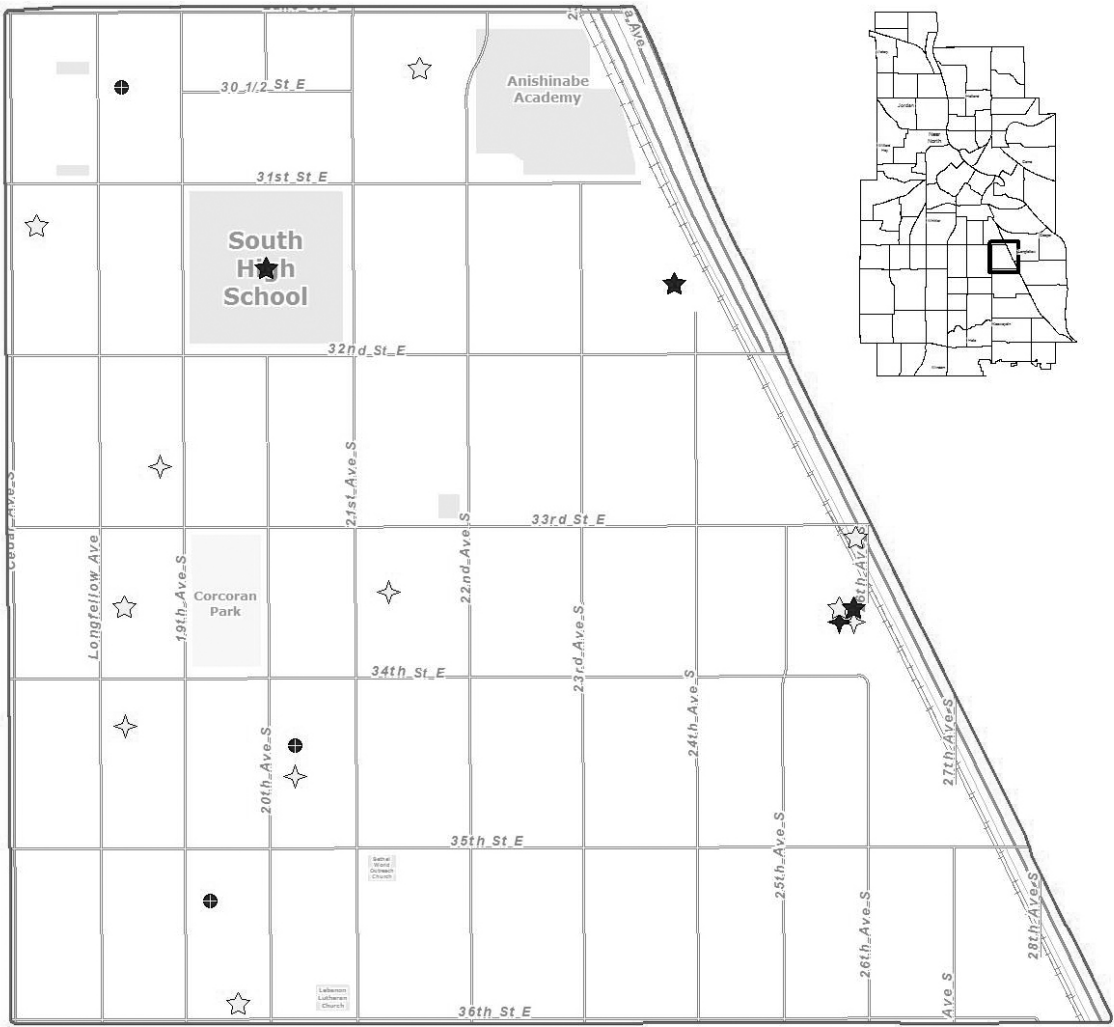

Corcoran Watch Update

Shawn Kinzel-Auer | Corcoran Neighbor & Block Leader

Silence is not good for our public safety. I try to keep the Watch just the facts, as neutral as possible and on topics of public safety and how it relates to our community. To provide a crime map to raise awareness of activity in our area. Corcoran is a diverse and multi-faceted community. We are a small melting pot of ethnicities, generations, income levels, orientations and ideologies. This eclectic mix is, and I honestly believe this, one of our community’s greatest strengths. It is also one of our greatest challenges. Distrust and fear are public safety issues and concerns. These differences between people can be a source of tension between people. Are you afraid of the person walking down the alley? Should you be? Maybe, maybe not. Why are you afraid of them? Is it because they doing questionable activities like peering in garages, cars, acting in a threatening manner? Or is it because they are different from you? Have you seen something that you should report to the police or make your neighbors aware of but you are afraid to draw attention to yourself? Why have you been silent? Distrust of the police perhaps? Worried about retaliation? Worried about how you will come off to others? Are you worried you don’t know how to report something or to whom? You shouldn’t be silent. If you are witnessing a crime call 911. Be clear and concise in your statement to police, stick to the facts (where, when, what) and provide as much information as possible. Let me re-iterate, do not be silent. Are you unsure how to raise awareness about what you feel is suspicious activity in your area? You can raise awareness via your block club and block leaders or via our CPS Karen Notsch (employee. email@minneapolismn.gov). If you don’t know who your block leader is for your block, you can become one! (http://www.ci.minneapolis.mn.us/police/outreach/blockclubs/police_outreach_blockclubs-home)

What each person considers suspicious activity is a judgement call by the person witnessing it, so again try to be unbiased, concise, stick to the facts when reporting it.

Lend a Hand to Your Neighbors as Violation Sweeps Begin | Dale una Mano a Tus Vecinos Mientras que la serie de Violaciones Comienzan

Vanessa Haight | CNO Staff - Equipo del CNO

Starting this spring, the City of Minneapolis will be conducting code enforcement sweeps in the Corcoran neighborhood. In particular, inspectors will be focusing on vacant properties or properties with repeated nuisance violations. Common violations that inspectors will be looking for include: tall grass and weeds; inoperable vehicles; vegetation overhanging the sidewalk, alley, or street; garbage, litter and junk; brush and branches.

Let's work together to ensure a safe, healthy, and livable neighborhood. Consider mowing your elderly neighbor's lawn or informing your renter neighbors that inspectors are coming and what they're looking for (the City only notifies property owners). Have an intentional prairie or an eclectic outdoor collection? Be sure to put a sign noting the intention and give the inspections department a call ahead of time to avoid confusion.

The City has partnered with a handful of businesses offering home improvement discounts. Stop in the CNO office for a coupon or visit www.minneapolismn.gov/regservices

Questions? www.minneapolismn.gov/inspections or call 311 (612-673-3000 from phones outside of Minneapolis)

Al inicio de esta primavera la ciudad de Minneapolis conducirá una serie de aplicación de normativas en el vecindario Corcoran. En particular, los inspectores se estarán enfocando en propiedades vacantes o propiedades con violaciones molestas repetidas. Las violaciones comunes que los inspectores estarán buscando incluyen: pasto crecido y hierbas; vehículos inservibles; pasto o hierbas en las aceras, callejón o calle; basura, desperdicios o cosas inservibles; matorrales y ramas.

Trabajemos juntos para asegurar un vecindario seguro, saludable y habitable. Considere podar el patio de sus vecinos adultos mayores o informar a su inquilino que las inspecciones se aproximan y lo que están buscando (la ciudad también notifica a los inquilinos). ¿Tienes una pradera intencional o una colección eléctrica al aire libre? Asegurase de poner una nota especificando de la intención y llama al departamento de inspecciones con anticipación para evitar confusión.

La ciudad se ha asociado con un grupo del negocios que ofrecen descuentos para las reparaciones de la casa. Pase por la oficina del CNO por un cupón o visite: www.minneapolismn.gov/regservices

MPHA to open two-bedroom public housing waitlist June 1

List closed since 2010; eligible families encouraged to apply online

MPHA | Press Release

Starting in June, the Minneapolis Public Housing Authority (MPHA) will accept applications from families for two-bedroom public housing. This is the first time in seven years the two-bedroom waitlist has been open, and we look forward to the opportunity to house new eligible families.

The two-bedroom waitlist will have an initial opening from 8 a.m. Thursday, June 1 through midnight on Saturday, June 3, 2017. The waitlist will subsequently open on the third Wednesday of each month beginning June 21.

MPHA's family waitlist applications are online. Interested families should visit www.MPHAOnline.org/familywaitlist for detailed information, and to apply when the waitlist is open. Application information is available in Spanish and Somali. Upon request, MPHA offers free language assistance and application help for those with a qualified disability.

Two-bedroom applicants must meet public housing income criteria, and have at least two family members including one dependent. Applicants during the initial opening period who meet the eligibility criteria will be placed on the waitlist according to preference points, without regard to time of submission.

MPHA also announces that the three-bedroom family waitlist will close after a final opening on Wednesday, May 17. This list has reached capacity. Waitlists for four- and five-bedroom units are presently open and will remain so.

MINNEAPOLIS/ST. PAUL (4/28/2017) — Thirteen students and alumni of the University of Minnesota Twin Cities campus have been awarded grants to study and teach abroad during the 2017-18 academic year by the Fulbright U. S. Student Program. Another has been selected for the Fulbright-related U.S. Teaching Assistant program in Austria, and four more have been designated as alternates and may yet receive Fulbright funding.

Talia Anderson, who graduated in 2016 with degrees in Geography and Spanish Studies, will spend a year in Chile working with Dr. Duncan Christie at the Universidad Austral de Chile. They will be collecting and analyzing tree-ring data in the Chilean Altiplano in order to describe historic water resource availability in the region. By creating a fuller picture of past hydrological conditions, they will be able to assess how the ecosystem will respond to climate change. Anderson is a former Talle Scholar in the College of Liberal Arts and a graduate of South High School in Minneapolis.
